1. The hours specified above for most consent types include 2 hours for resource management services ($135/hour), and the remaining balance for consent processing services ($155/hour) and any expert advice.

2. The initial fixed application fee for consent types marked with a * includes a consent monitoring charge of $77.50. This covers 0.5 hours for compliance monitoring (e.g. registering bore logs on our Wells Database). This is because the majority of these consent types are one-off and not monitored with a site inspection.

3. For applications to change consent conditions, administrative conditions include monitoring and reporting requirements. All other conditions include conditions relating to avoiding, remedying, or mitigating environmental effects, e.g. rates of take/discharge, water quality standards, maintaining environmental flows, construction methodology.

4. Deemed permitted activities (DPAs) are generally invoiced when a decision on a DPA is made in writing. If the actual and reasonable costs are less than the fixed fee of $465.00, a lesser fee will be applied. If the actual and reasonable costs are greater than the fixed fee of $465.00, an additional charge will apply.

5. This only applies to transfers of consent(s) to another person/entity which do not include any changes to the activity or conditions. Payment of the fixed fee must be made by one party at the time of submitting the request form.
